

Nicolás Armengol has just signed the contract to be the protagonist of Caravan... The Jazz Musical

April 14, 2009

Diego Romay summoned the former star of Bailando por un sueño (Dancing for a dream) to work at El Nacional Theater.

Producer Diego Romay is working steadily in the preliminary stages of Caravan... The Jazz Musical, his new musical creation which will open in mid-May at El Nacional Theater.

Romay, who created the hit musical Tanguera, is summoning the most prominent names of the Argentinian musical theater for this new project which is inspired in the most famous songs and melodies of jazz history. Last Monday, Sandra Guida arrived in Buenos Aires on a direct flight from Paris. Sandra will be the star of Caravan... The Jazz Musical and she's ready to meet the producer and begin work in the musical.

Yesterday (Monday), Nicolás Armengol, the dreamer who was the absolute winner in Bailando por un sueño, signed a contract to bring to life the character of Billy, the male protagonist of the story, who falls madly in love with the character performed by Sandra Guida.

Before his triumph in Marcelo Tinelli's show together with Pampita, Armengol took part in many famous musicals, most of them produced by Romay Productions, such as My Fair Lady, Saturday Night Fever, Fiddler on the Roof, Victor Victoria and Cabaret.

With Caravan...The Jazz Musical, Nicolás will have his big opportunity on the stage as this will be his first leading part in a theatrical musical.

Diego Romay is the executive producer, Omar Pacheco (Nativo, Tanguera...) is the director, Gustavo Wons (Sweet Charity, Victor Victoria, and Eva) is in charge of choreography, and Eduardo Szvetelmann is the musical director. Caravan...The Jazz Musical will be a modern musical in the style of the musicals produced by Diego Romay who has marked a "before" and an "after" for this genre in Argentina.

Romay's new musical will present 30 dancers and 15 musicians on stage who will narrate a love story through the most famous melodies and songs in jazz history.

Caravan...The Jazz Musical* tells a love story set in the 1940's New York in an imaginary cabaret called Caravan.

Shortly, Diego Romay will finish up defining the cast for this musical that will debut by mid-May at El Nacional Theater which is owned by Alejandro Romay.
